These ceremonies include persons who expect to complete all of their requirements at the end of spring 2017 semester. Therefore, this listing of degree candidates remains tentative for spring graduates. The diploma of the university, signed by its proper officers, remains the official testimony to the possession of a degree. Academic honors designations for spring graduates printed in this program are based on performance through the fall 2016 semester.

These ceremonies include persons who expect to complete all degree requirements at the end of spring 2017 semester. Therefore, this listing of degree candidates remains tentative for spring graduates. The diploma of the university, signed by its proper officers, remains the official testimony to the possession of a degree.
The University Seal

The University of North Carolina Wilmington has evolved over the years. Originally, there were no pine boughs on the seal. A compass, square, quill and triangle were depicted to represent the pre-engineering program offered by Wilmington College. Today’s seal retains the triangle as a reference to our roots, adds the pine boughs for the longleaf pine, indigenous to North Carolina, and the scroll for a diploma-issuing university. The UNC Wilmington’s mascot, a Seahawk, appears at the top of the pine boughs, and 1947, the date of the establishment of Wilmington College, appears at the bottom.

UNC Wilmington’s unique motto, Discere Aude, was created by Dr. William Madison Randall, president of Wilmington College, 1958-68. It has been defined as both “Dare to learn” and “In order to discover the truth firsthand, be courageous!”

The University Mace

The UNCW mace, carried by the chief faculty marshal at commencement, incorporates elements and materials important to the history of our university and region. The boss, or top of the mace, represents the essence of education, the flame of learning. It was designed to embody humanity’s timeless pursuit of knowledge and quest for truth.

Below the boss are four official seals important to the university’s history. They represent New Hanover County, Wilmington College, the University of North Carolina system and the University of North Carolina Wilmington. Four bands on the shaft symbolize UNCW’s four academic areas: the College of Arts and Sciences, the Cameron School of Business, the Watson College of Education and the College of Health and Human Services.

The terminus, or end piece, consists of a longleaf pinecone to symbolize the longleaf pine tree common to the landscape of Southeastern North Carolina. The longleaf pine is also the state tree.

The mace was designed by Jeff Morvil, a Wilmington artist, and created by Marvin Jensen, a sculptor from Penland, NC.
The University

Our university is known for excellence in everything it does, for its global mindset and for its engagement with the community and the world. Our values encompass a profound belief in excellence, diversity, integrity and innovation, and support a profound determination to put students and our community first.

With nearly 15,000 students and more than 2,100 faculty and staff, UNCW is a thriving institution with a strong reputation for quality and affordability. Consistently recognized by national publications as a top public undergraduate institution, UNCW ranked #16 on the “Best Regional Universities in the South” list on U.S. News & World Report’s “Best Colleges 2016,” placing sixth among public universities. In recognition of our model programs for military personnel, U.S. News ranked UNCW 14th on its “2016 Best Colleges for Veterans” listing. Among public universities, UNCW ranked fourth. Consumer’s Digest ranked UNCW 10th on its list of the “Top 50 Values for Public Colleges and Universities” while Best Value Schools placed UNCW 15th on its list of the nation’s “30 Most Beautiful Coastal College Campuses.”

Established as Wilmington College in 1947, the institution joined the state university system in 1969. The first graduate programs were authorized in 1977. The university’s academic units, the Graduate School, the College of Arts and Sciences, the Cameron School of Business, the Watson College of Education and the College of Health and Human Services offer 54 bachelor’s degrees in 49 majors and 29 graduate degrees, as well as four doctoral degrees: Ph.D. in marine biology, Ed.D. in educational leadership, Ph.D. in psychology and Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP).

The university takes a leadership role in the long-term economic, environmental, educational, social and cultural health of the region. UNCW actively supports economic development through advanced biotech research at its CREST Research Park and the Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship, which works to identify and nurture high-growth, low-impact companies in Southeastern North Carolina.

UNCW fields intercollegiate teams in NCAA Division I and competes in the Colonial Athletic Association. Four-year class averages and graduation rates of the university’s student-athletes rank among the highest for NCAA Division I public universities in North Carolina.

Academic Regalia

Academic regalia usually recognize three different degrees: the bachelor’s, the master’s and the doctorate, each derived by medieval university custom.

The bachelor’s, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name from the medieval practice of “bachelors” who wore a garland of bayberries to distinguish their status. They wore gowns of worsted material, fastened at the top, with pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The bachelor’s hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet. The master’s degree was equivalent to a license to teach. The gown, worn open, has long, closed sleeves with a slit for the arm near the middle of each sleeve. The master’s hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet.

The doctor’s degree indicated advanced study and independent research in a specialized field. The gown, worn open, is faced with a broad strip of velvet and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve. The hood is four feet long and faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned: white, arts; yellow, sciences; light blue, education; apricot, nursing; drab or light brown, business. Each hood is lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree. UNCW’s hood is lined with green and gold.

All degrees have a black “mortarboard.” A black tassel, or one in colors signifying the graduate’s field of specialization, hangs to the left of the face. Those with a doctor’s degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study or a mortarboard with a tassel in whole or in part of golden thread.

Alma Mater

Hail we proudly sing to thee who guides our green and gold.

Though future years may part us, fond memories we shall hold.

For our hearts will cherish all your service done:

All hail our alma mater praise thee, O Wilmington!

Here we stand as one together voices raised in song.

Our loyal hearts praise thee as God doth lead us on.

Dare to learn and dare to soar, Seahawks brave and true:

All hail our alma mater praise teal, gold and blue!
