

Watson School of Education Scholarship Information University of North Carolina Wilmington

The Watson School of Education and UNCW have a limited number of scholarships that have been generously donated in honor of individuals or organizations. Each of these scholarships has specific and unique criteria. While some are available to one or more students each academic year, others are renewable and only become available after the current recipient has graduated or becomes ineligible for the scholarship. Because competition for scholarships is intense, merit scholarships are available only to the most outstanding students who have been admitted to the Watson School of Education at the time of application review. The value of the scholarship is based on annual earnings of the endowment.

All students applying for scholarships from the Watson School of Education must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). You can file the FAFSA online at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov> or check with the UNCW Financial Aid office for more information.

NOTE: Students do not select which scholarships to apply for; instead, the scholarship committee will automatically consider applicants for all possible scholarships for which they are eligible.

Scholarship applications are generally available between mid-November and early February. Scholarships are awarded in the spring for the upcoming academic year.
