

Watson School of Education University of North Carolina Wilmington

National Board Renewal Support Series

This professional development opportunity is designed for those school personnel who are renewing their National Board Certification or intend to renew in the upcoming years. Agenda items for the first session include a self-examination of one's current practices, a review and application of the 5 Core Propositions, information on writing standards-based responses, and an overview of the renewal process and expectations. The following sessions will be facilitated work sessions with agenda items specific to planning, revising, writing, and videotaping. These sessions will build on the work done in first renewal support session and will provide a learning community of support for those pursuing renewal. All sessions will be facilitated by Watson School of Education Faculty and a NBCT who has completed the renewal process.
