

G.I.S.A.

Gifted Informational Sessions and Advocacy

New Hanover County Schools in partnership with UNCW's Watson College of Education is pleased to host the Spring 2017 Gifted Information and Advocacy Session (GISA). Join us as eminent scholar and parent of gifted children, George Betts, Ed.D., shares advice and strategies for helping gifted and talented children thrive at home and in school.

Date	April 20, 2017
Time	6 to 7:30 p.m.
Topic	Serving the Whole Gifted Child
Location	UNCW Watson College of Education Room EB 162
Parking	Free parking is available in the parking deck across from the Watson College of Education. See UNCW Campus Map at http://uncw.edu/ba/campus_map/
Reservations	The event is free and open to the public, but seating is limited and registration is required. Reserve seats at http://bit.ly/NewHanoverGISA
Featuring	Dr. George Betts, President, National Association for Gifted Children Professor Emeritus, University of Northern Colorado

Dr. Betts is the founder of the Center for the Education and Study of the Gifted, Talented, and Creative. He is an internationally acclaimed speaker and consultant who specializes in assisting schools, districts, states, and national organizations to implement and refine programs for gifted and talented children to become lifelong learners.

