

Students are invited to an Informal Discussion with

NALCAB

National Association for
Latino Community Asset Builders

Jeremy Carter

Resource Development and Evaluations Coordinator
National Association for Latino Community Asset Builders (NALCAB)

In his role as Research Development and Evaluations Coordinator for NALCAB, Mr. Carter works to increase direct access to grants and investment capital for both NALCAB and its member organizations and conducts third party evaluations of member projects. Jeremy came to NALCAB after having previously worked as Capacity Building Specialist for Nogales CDC in Nogales, Arizona. He formerly operated his family-owned business and served as a US Peace Corps Volunteer in Guatemala, where he managed a microfinance program for 250 indigenous women among other income-generating projects. Mr. Carter, bilingual, received his Bachelor of the Arts from UNC Wilmington and his Masters of the Arts from the University of Arizona's Center for Latin American Studies where his studies focused on Economic Development and Border Studies.

Discussion Topics to Include:

- Living, working, studying, and volunteering in Latin America
- Peace Corps
- Latinos in the US
- Graduate studies in Spanish and Latin American Studies
- Careers with a degree in Spanish and/or Latin American Studies
