

Office of International Programs Scholarships and Awards

Parrish-Betts Travel Award

The Parrish-Betts Travel Award was created by Elizabeth Betts in honor of her grandparents, Alice and John Parrish. This merit-based award supports UNCW's efforts to graduate global citizens by providing an opportunity for students to broaden their experience through study abroad. Preference will be given to graduate or undergraduate students who have demonstrated an interest in Africa or Asia, and have applied to study abroad on a spring UNCW-approved semester or summer study abroad program with a minimum duration of 4 weeks. Applicants for this award could be granted $500 to $1000 by completing the Office of International Program's Application for Education Abroad Grant \(PDF\). Multiple copies are not required if you are applying for other awards which call for this application. For deadlines, see above.

The Sandra Koza Frank Travel Scholarship

Created by David J. Frank and his children in loving memory of their wife and mother, Sandra Koza Frank, this scholarship supports UNCW's efforts to graduate global citizens. Thanks to the Franks' generosity, more students will be given the opportunity to participate in cultural immersion programs. This merit-based award is available to UNCW students participating in credit-bearing, university-approved study abroad programs or international ESL, exchange, or degree-seeking students. Recipients will be selected on the basis of demonstrated academic ability and special achievement. Funding may vary but awards will usually be between $500 and $1000. Students interested in applying for the award should fill out the Office of International Program's Education Abroad Grant \(PDF\). Multiple copies are not required if you are applying for other awards which call for this application. For deadlines, see above.

Stella Doran International Studies Award

This special award is presented in memory of Stella Doran and her husband Edward by their son Dr. Guy Doran. The Dorans, citizens of Wilmington and the world, enjoyed travel and serving the community with compassion and generosity of spirit. In order to treasure their memory and to support study abroad opportunities for travel-loving students, the Dorans are contributing over $25,000 for UNCW students with financial needs and high merit. Rising juniors and seniors with at least a 3.0 GPA, demonstrated financial need, and who are applying for a semester or full-year education abroad program may apply. Applicants for this award could be granted $500 to $1000 by completing the Office of International Program's Education Abroad Grant \(PDF\).

Multiple copies are not required if you are applying for other awards which call for this application. For deadlines, see above.