Information about the UNCW Honors College:

The Honors College at the University of North Carolina Wilmington provides academically talented students with innovative and unique educational experiences. The program encourages curiosity, critical thinking, and independent work skills by offering exciting academic and cultural activities as well as the opportunity for close working and social relationships with the faculty.

To graduate with University Honors, a student must:

1. Complete at least 12 credit hours of university studies courses honors sections*
2. Complete six credits of "Interdisciplinary Honors Seminars" (HON 110 and HON 210)*
3. Complete two credits of "Honors Enrichment Seminar" (HON 120)*
4. Maintain academic eligibility: at the completion of 27 credit-hours at UNCW, an overall grade point average of 3.30 or better in all coursework is required. An overall grade point average of 3.50 or better must be established by the completion of 58 credit hours and maintained thereafter.
5. Earn a minimum of a "C" (2.00) in all honors work ("B" (3.00) in 499 and honors contract courses) and have a 3.00 overall GPA in all honors curriculum coursework. If a student earns a grade below a "C" in an honors basic studies course, the grade may count toward that student's basic studies requirements but not toward his or her honors requirements. If that student wishes to complete the honors requirements for University Honors, he or she must take an additional honors basic studies course and earn no lower than a "C." Students earning below a "C" in HON 210 or HON 120 must take additional seminars, respectively, and earn no lower than a "C."
6. Complete requirements for Departmental Honors (senior honors project, six credits)

*Note: students entering after the fall of the freshman year must complete HON 210, two credit hours of HON 120, and at least nine hours of honors basic studies.

The Honors House is a living-learning environment for students enrolled in UNCW's Honors College. The Honors House features a dynamic student population with members committed to student leadership, scholarship, and service. In order to participate in the Honors College and reside in the Honors House, residents must meet the following qualifications: (1) be enrolled in the Honors Program at UNCW; (2) be a full-time student each semester; (3) be in good standing with the university's student judicial program; and (4) be an active member of the community

UNCW is committed to equality of educational opportunity and does not discriminate against applicants, students, or employees based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, or disability. Moreover, The University of North Carolina at Wilmington is open to people of all races and actively seeks to promote racial integration by enrolling a larger number of black students. Furthermore, the university affirms that admissions and employment decisions will be made without regard to an individual's political affiliation, sexual orientation, or relationship to other university constituents. The university seeks to promote campus diversity by employing a larger number of minorities and females where these are under utilized in the university.
