All applicants must provide two supporting recommendations using the UNCW Department of Music Recommendation Form, which is available from the UNCW Department of Music or online at <<http://www.uncw.edu/music/admissions-scholarships.html>>. These recommendations should be sent directly to the Department of Music.

This application makes you eligible for any Music Scholarship for which the Music Faculty find you qualified. The deadline for receipt of applications and supportive materials, including two recommendation forms and an academic transcript, is April 1. Auditions for entry into the Music Program must be completed by this date for all new students. Note: should April 1 fall on a weekend, the deadline is the first business day in April.

Music scholarships are awarded to music majors on the basis of musical talent and academic record and are made on a one-year basis. Scholarships are renewable depending upon academic and musical progress.

If selected to receive a scholarship, may we release your name and other directory information to the donor funding the scholarship?
