NEW: Racial Justice Leadership Alliance. Faculty group forming now. Sign up by Friday, January 25th.
Professors Kim Cook and Lori Messinger, inspired by the work of LGBTQIA Ally program, are creating a new group, the Racial Justice Leadership Alliance, which aims to provide space for racial justice and diversity advocates to collaborate on building a more safe and welcoming campus. The Alliance will explore how allies can work in our communities, on our campus, and beyond, to bridge the chasms that exist around racial injustices in contemporary American society. We plan to meet every other week and will use books, websites, TED talks, and other resources to help structure the discussions. Ultimately, we aim to develop concrete action plans that can support racial justice work through our leadership. Email Kim Cook at cookk@uncw.edu or Lori Messinger at messingerl@uncw.edu for more information or to sign up for the Racial Justice Leadership Alliance.

Please let me know if you have questions about any of these opportunities. I look forward to seeing you at today’s Celebration of Teaching! Thank you and HAPPY NEW SEMESTER!

Diana L. Ashe, PhD
Director, Center for Teaching Excellence and Center for Faculty Leadership
Professor, Department of English
University of North Carolina Wilmington
910-962-3332