

Bachelor of Arts in Criminology

The University of North Carolina Wilmington, in partnership with the North Carolina Community College System, offers a Bachelor of Arts in Criminology. Concentrations are available in Criminal Justice or Criminology, with all upper division course work completed online and in Jacksonville, NC.

Students in this program have typically earned an Associates degree, or similar number of credits, prior to enrolling. Classes are held aboard Camp Lejeune MCB, at the John A. Lejeune Education Center, and on the campus of Coastal Carolina Community College. Many extension students also take classes on the main campus, and extension courses include main campus students.

Before applying to UNCW, we recommend the following:

- Complete the University Studies requirements www.uncw.edu/onslow/1universitystudies.html, or complete the degree requirements for an AA, AS, or Transfer Core Diploma from a North Carolina Community College.
- Complete (if possible) the following courses:

North Carolina Community College Course	UNCW Course	UNCW Course Title
ENG 111	ENG 101	College Writing and Reading I
ENG 112, 113, or 114	ENG 201	College Writing and Reading II

UNCW Criminology Information

- Degree requirements may be met before applying, including college algebra and foreign language. Many extension students also continue coursework at Coastal Carolina or other local community college. Please contact Dr. Mentor with questions. For all major requirements: <http://www.uncw.edu/uc/advising/documents/ProgramSheets/13-14/1314cas-crm.pdf>
- Sociology and Criminology courses are either "web enhanced" or fully online. All courses for the major are available online. Web enhanced courses, which include online activities and a reduced number of class meetings, are scheduled each semester. In addition to online activities, these classes meet in the classroom or a synchronous online learning environment.
- Our curriculum is designed to fit each student's needs. To facilitate your planning, core courses are offered each semester. We also realize student plans may include relocation. Most students are able to complete degree requirements remotely, online or as a transient student. Our goal is the same as yours - graduation!
