

Clinical Research, B.S. Learning Outcomes

Curriculum Plan:

Thus, upon completion of the undergraduate program, the new graduate will have competency in:

- Clinical research methodologies, including protocols and regulatory compliance,
- Data collection, analysis and synthesis derived from human-oriented research, research ethics,
- Assessment and evaluation of the safety and efficacy of investigational products,
- Application of knowledge and skills gained in the basic sciences to clinical situations,
- Oral and written scientific presentation, and
- Collaborative team membership.